

People are your weakest link – Strengthen awareness to improve the robustness of your ISMS

Training aids are a tool for getting general staff involved in discussing and understanding the sometimes complex data security issues which might impinge on how they work – and to do so in a low impact, low pressure and ‘fun’ way.

This card suite is designed with ISO27001 in mind. Any organisation implementing ISO27001 will find that this card suite helps to accelerate the speed at which staff develop their understanding of confidentiality, integrity and availability within an information security management system (ISMS).

This card game gives staff an opportunity to identify what might be practical solutions to common organisational information security challenges.

Visit www.itgovernance.co.uk/training-aids.aspx to find out more.

